Municipal Districts Association Meets

Delegates From Various M. D's Assembled at Vulcan and Heard Addresses by Municipal Officials

The annual meeting of the Little Bow Municipal Districts Association was held in the Oddfellows' hall, Vulcan, on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 30th with forty delegates present representing Dinton M.D., No. 189, Marquis M.D. No. 157, M.D. Royal No. 188, M.D. of Riley No. 159, M.D. of Harmony No. 128, M.D. Clear Lake, No. 129 and M.D. of Little Bow, No. 38 as well as visitors from Argyle M. D. No. 99.

Mayor W.D. Allan welcomed the visitors on behalf of the Town of Vulcan.

The principal business of the convention was a review of the amendments of the Municipal Districts Act by Alex. Souther, deputy minister of municipal affairs, Edmonton. This address proved very interesting and instructive, farmers getting much information relative to municipal affairs

W. C. Barrie, Alberta Superintendent for the Prairie Farm Assistance Act spoke on the problems and difficulties in administering Wheat Acreage Reductions, and explained the new income bonus payment just recently announced. He also explained the new income bonus under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act. His address was particularly interesting owing to the fact that he explained the delay in paying the summerfallow bonus, and the reason for this delay. The councilors were particularly anxious to receive this information and his presence did much to clear up the misunderstanding farmers had had regarding the government policy in respect to bonuses to farmers.

Two resolutions were passed as follows: "Whereas the Health Unit as established by the Department of Health pays 50% of all the cost of same and whereas several municipal districts employ a full-time doctor giving full health service to the municipal districts which goes further than the services from the Health Unit."

"Therefore be it resolved that we are of the opinion that the Department of Health should contribute a like amount toward the cost of this medical service to those municipal districts employing a full-time doctor."

Second resolution: "Whereas under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act a half a township is considered to be a unit for distribution of benefits, and

"Whereas in this area all producers secure the benefits whatever their production, and in other areas there are farmers who are entitled to assistance and do not get it. Therefore, be it resolved that the area to be benefitted be reduced to each individual farm."

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: E. H. Griffin, reeve of M.D. of Harmony, was re-elected president for the fourth successive time; A. G. Spaeth of Vulcan, was elected vice-president, and D. D. McQueen of Vulcan, was re-elected secretary-treasurer for the seventh term in that capacity.

A pleasant feature of the meeting was the presentation of a pipe to Mr. J. A. (Bert) Gow of Barons, who is retiring from the position of secretary-treasurer of the M.D. of Little Bow. Mr. Gow has served in that capacity for 26 years and will be greatly missed by everyone in this district. The presentation was made by Reeve R. W. Reed. Mr. Gow has been very popular as a municipal official and as one of the best known residents of this part of the country. He was also granted a life membership in the association.

The meeting was brought to a close with the serving of a banquet at the Oddfellows' hall, catered to by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

Lethbridge Unit Recruiting

An opportunity presents itself today for South Alberta young men to join a very attractive branch of the Canadian army and continue to serve together for the duration of hostilities wherever the fortunes of war lead them.

In Lethbridge Major R. W. Phipps is now recruiting for the 112th Light Anti-Aircraft Battery, R.C.A. The officer comanding has impressed himself on those who have already met him as an outstanding military leader. He has already served in the Canadian army for many years—two years as a gunner and six years as a sergeant.

The battery is a unit of Canada's fourth division and it is authoritatively stated that it will be in action before long.

Prospective recruits between the ages of 18 and 45 years are invited to report to the armories at Lethbridge where daily medical boards are being held. There will be no delay in being attested.

Majority of the battery's personnel of eight officers and 275 other ranks will be south Albertans and the unit is a most attractive one to young men anxious to serve together.

Three Drowned In One Family

Fatal Accident When Car Crashes Into Canal; Parents and Brother of Margaret and Lillian Horn, High River

As a result of a car fatality last Saturday evening, which took the lives of three people, Miss Lilian Horn of High River, and Miss Margaret Horn of the Galt Hospital, Lethbridge are the sole surviving members of a family of five. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horn and their 27-year-old son Emil, were drowned when their car crashed through the railing of a bridge over the irrigation ditch near Barons, and dropped into the canal. They were returning from Lethbridge to their home near Vulcan when the tragedy occurred.

Some time later Mrs. Bruce Clark, returning from Barons, noticed the brokenrailing on the bridge. She stopped to investigate and saw the wheels of an overturned car in the water and immediately notified the police. When Constable Eaton, R.C.M.P. investigated, he found all three drowned. An inquest will be held November 7.

The family is well known and highly regarded in the Vulcan district. Miss Margaret Horn who is now a nurse at Galt Hospital, Lethbridge, attended high school in High River two years ago. Miss Lillian Horn, her sister, is now a student at High River high school. Both young ladies have many friends in High River, and the deepest sympathy is extended in this tragic bereavement.

It is reported that the family suffered serious loss from fire earlier this fall.

Another unusually sad feature is that the girls have no relatives in this country to whom they can turn. Mr. and Mrs. George Harper and Dr. and Mrs. McNichol accompanied Miss Lillian to Lethbridge on Sunday to be with her sister, and to give all possible assistance.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at Vulcan with quite a number of friends from High River attending.

Pallbearers were: G. Jorden, C. Jorden, Dallas Sperry, Willis McIntyre, Del Thomas, Howard Marshman, Ross McIntyre, George Campbell, H. Gischwendt, C. Mix, A. Myers, Paul Oat, August Gessen, John McRoberts, Weldon Greenlee, Roy Fitzpatrick, Art Fitzpatrick, Pete McIntyre and W. J. McIntyre. Interment was made in the family plot in the Vulcan cemetery.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONVENTION

The semi-annual convention of the Alberta Young People of the Church of Christ which was held in the Church of Christ the week of Nov. 1 and 2, was claimed a success by all those who attended.

There were about forty visitors present, representing Calgary, Erskine, Purple Springs and Wrentham.

The young people were privileged to hear such speakers as Mr. M. L. Breakenridge, principal of the Alberta Bible College; Mr. Robert George Gonyea, Mr. and Mrs. E. Benoit and Miss Marie Dunbar, instructress in the Bible College in Calgary. Mr. Frank Rimple and Mr. Tom Rash, all of whom are ministers in various districts and churches in Alberta. Messages were also given by Miss Edna Hunt and Miss Isobel Huyser of Calgary. Miss Ruth Hansell and Mr. Leslie Jones of Vulcan.

On Saturday the Tuxedo Park church of Calgary, and the Vulcan church debated on the subject of "Resolved that the church's worst enemy is within the church," with Tuxedo church carrying away the winning honors.

On Saturday evening the church was the scene of a banquet at which were present over fifty young people. Letters were read from young people not able to attend, and a candle light service was held—to recall the camp fires at the Young People of the Church of Christ summer camp.

On Sunday afternoon a short piano recital was presented by Miss Fern Whitman A.T.C.M., L.R.S.M., instructor of music in the Alberta Bible College. This recital proved to be very interesting and educational. In the evening in addition to the regular song service pageants were presented on "Prayer and the Cross" by the Vulcan and Tuxedo churches. All delegates to the convention reported that they thoroughly enjoyed themselves while in Vulcan.

Beginning At Home

PREMIER ABERHART who is quoted as saying in Winnipeg that the government of Alberta has done everything in its power to help the war effort, did not go so far as to say that his government had done everything in its power to help Alberta people help the war effort. He spoke of the loan of government buildings, such as the University residence, to the war department and the purchase of $1,000,000 of war bonds. He did not mention any economies which had been practiced to strengthen the financial footing of the province or ease tax burdens of the people.

The Democratic Monetary Reform convention announced a ten-point program having as its aims amongst other things the liberation of the country from the yoke of the present financial system; the abolition of unnecessary poverty and privation; freedom from oppressive debt and taxation. The convention soared round in national and international realms, but with no stress on economic accomplishments in the provincial field—a field over which the principal speakers have had full control in the past few years.

No individual in his personal life and liveliehood works under his own conception of ideal conditions. If he is a farmer, market conditions may be against him. If he is a merchant, competition may be his trouble. Every person has his own handicaps. But the majority get right down to business, size up the handicaps and advantages, and tackle things on the basis of what actually exists. They know that alibis soon cease to be convincing, so they do the best with what means are at hand.

The only way in which Premier Aberhart will convince the interested bystander that he is capable of leading the country out of the present alleged wilderness into the heaven outlined in the ten-point program, is for him to make a success of the job he has as premier of Alberta. If he had attacked his own position realistically, pulled this province out of its financial difficulties, reduced taxes, lopped off all superfluous "services," then he would have demonstrated fitness for larger leadership. His followers would have grown in numbers and confidence. They would have been inclined to believe that a man who could achieve success under a system not of his own choosing, might be capable of leadership under conditions which he himself considered ideal.

Instead of seizing the opportunity of proving himself in the provincial field where he sought and won election, he prefers to throw up smoke screens of vague theory that now appear to be taking in the whole world.

It is merely repetitious and wearying to go over election promises which were not fulfilled. But the new ten-point program aims at freedom from oppressive taxation. That surely is within the scope of Alberta's power. With enormously increased revenue, with unemployment costs negligible, now would be a wonderful time to make Alberta a shining example of liberation from heavy taxation. The ten point program also would "obtain economic security which the vast resources of Canada can provide for her citizens." Alberta has her own natural resources which the province is administering, but with what benefit to the people?

If the premier is going to win converts to his new Monetary Reform organization, Alberta must show convincing results from his leadership.

One of his first economies might be to dismiss Mr. Byrne who is no more than a barnacle on the ship of state.

Larger Municipal Units

LOOMING over the province, is a plan for enlarging municipal units, by including several municipal districts and local improvement districts in one operating body. It is expected that a few test units will be established before the new year. There is said to be legislation giving the government authority to go ahead with this plan. Amongst reasons given for instituting larger units are reduced administration costs and equalization of tax burden.

From sketchy information available the formation of larger municipal units may follow the pattern of the large school units. Both schemes were drafted by the U.F.A. government, but met such a wave of opposition that no attempt was made to impose them upon the taxpayers of Alberta. However, the large school units have now been established, and allowing them every possible virtue in some respects, the result has been increased taxation, an increase which runs 50% higher than under the small district plan in many instances. This does not rouse confidence that taxation would be lessened under the new plan for larger municipal units.

In the U.F.A. scheme launched in 1932, the proposed incorporation for this district included districts 190, 191, 192, 221 and 222 and the L.I.D. of the foothills extending almost to Banff. Generally speaking the divisions were made with some regard for identical industries and interests. But the greatest objection was the inclusion of ranch areas with the more thickly populated farm areas. Requirements of ranching and farming areas are different, and to extend a flat rate of taxation over farm and ranch lands, was regarded in 1932, and would be regarded in 1941 as most unfair.

Some local municipal districts are in financial position far from good. Others, more fortunately situated or better administered have maintained excellent financial position. But the thickly settled municipal district has requirements of roads, schools and such services that do not exist in the foothills. Local Improvement districts manage as a rule very economically building their own roads and bridges as required, and reducing expenses to a minimum. To tax low value grazing land on the same basis as farm land or to saddle local improvement districts with a share of municipal obligations is certain to bring general and justifiable protest.

Municipal governments have been conscientious and efficient in keeping down taxation, and safeguarding the taxpayer. They have set an example to provincial and federal governments. Whether a union of several municipal districts in one unit would reduce taxation or improve services is open to question. But if the government is seriously interested in reducing taxes and protecting the taxpayer, a much more constructive move would be to enlarge the provincial ridings and reduce the number of legislative members. And still more productive of having would be the union of the three prairie provinces in one unit for administration.

Pertinent Topics

DISCUSSED BY H. C.

There has seldom been a battle let alone a war, that went according to plan and when the German High Command reiterates that every phase of the series of battles now going on is according to plan it is simply lying. If it had gone so smoothly it would now be over. The supreme command may have a well-considered plan but it is far from perfect if it is not flexible enough for alterations made necessary by the mischances and imponderables that march with battles. Hitler may make his devotees believe everything is going according to plan, but if they had retained control of their thinking faculties they would know he had no intention, three months ago, of being where he is now.

—o—o—o—o—

That's the worst of being a dictator. He can't afford to make mistakes, or rather to admit mistakes. According to plan the Russians would be down and out now. The only mistake Hitler has admitted is that he mistook the power of Russian resistance and he would not have admitted that except to point the moral that he, as the Saviour of Europe against bolshevism, struck none too soon.

—o—o—o—o—

There has been a complete change in Hitler's bearing toward the United States. Until lately he took pains to avoid action that might pull them into the war. His object was to do nothing that would make difficult the work of his emissaries in "softening" the Americans. Now he seems eager to drive them into the war? Why- Simply because his Russian adventure has got into a rut and he wants to get Japanese assistance. If the U.S. should declare war against Germany, Japan would have to declare war against the U.S. under the Axis terms. Accordingly he has given orders to sink American ships.

—o—o—o—o—

What are employers of labor to do under a form of conscription which says: "You may not increase your prices without our consent but you must increase wages by giving a bonus based on cost-of-living indices compiled at Ottawa"? Governmental consent in one case and not in another is likely to breed suspicion of patronage and the employer who is refused consent to raise the price of his products will either have to get out new lines at new prices or reduce the quality of his product unless he is able and willing to continue to operate on a smaller profit basis.

—o—o—o—o—

A Berlin correspondent writes that German barbers have been cautioned not to discuss the Russian affair. The limit of repression is reached when anyone anywhere dares to define what barbers may or may not discuss with their patrons.

The Italian Stefina Agency says that for eight days the Italian column in the Stalino sector withstood a flank attack. It will remembered that in the other war it was not during a flank attack that Mussolini was wounded.

When Vichy declines comment on a report that Petain had offered himself as a hostage the inference is that he did or that Vichy wishes it to be believed. If he did it was a generous gesture, although life at 85 under such horrible circumstances should not be hard to give up. The offer becomes him much better than his excuse that agents of foreign powers are responsible for instigating the killing of German soldiers in France. It becomes him better than his appeal to Hitler which might be phrased this way: "Please Fuerhrer, don't kill a hundred of my people for one of your people that is killed by an unknown person."

—o—o—o—o—

Mrs. Neilson, M.P., was not so enthusiastic about helping Britain, as she is now about Russia. She has been addressing meetings in the East with other friends and fellow-travellers of Russia and the advertisements imply that Britain will default on her promises to aid Russia unless she is prodded into action. Labor groups in Britain, too, are engaged in same work of holding meetings, and parades to spur Churchill into an invasion of the continent. Churchill, mind you, who up to 1939 was a war-monger, but is now in their view a wishy-washy fellow.

—o—o—o—o—

Mr. Roosevelt will do well to keep out of war if his country will not back him up in any measure he may take to put J. L. Lewis where he belongs. The appeal to have him call off the strike because it would injure defense work was bound to fail because the strike was called by Lewis for that purpose. It is as if he appealed to a yeggman not to blow up a bank vault because the bank might lose money thereby. If Mr. Roosevelt can be defied by this ruffian there is no reason why we should allow him to get into a position where he can defy a more supine government in Canada. The C.I.O. and all its affiliates should be banned from Canada as outlaws for that is what they are.

No one who would undertake to fix prices should shy at conscription. It is a form of conscription not promised during the elections. Indeed we were by implication promised freedom from such restrictions upon individual liberty. But new occasions teach new duties. If we are to avoid inflation we must do things that smack of compulsion and dictatorship and if we are to deserve a record for fairness and impartiality the more inflexible the rules the better. The curious thing is that the U.S. which decreed conscription of man-power, hesitates to take the economic steps Canada ras taken.

German papers rage against Roosevelt's latest speech. They say his charges against Germany are fake, and demand proof of his claim that he has a map showing how South and Central America are to be split up into five divisions governed by Axis members. Now, why should anyone have to prove anything against Nazi Germany

Reduced Three Million Ac. Wheat

Alberta Farmers Cut Down on Wheat Acreage. New Bonuses To Be Paid Shortly

Alberta farmers reduced acreage by 3,000,000 acres this year, with 2,000,000 to summerfallow and 1,000,000 to grains.

There are 76,000 wheat growing farmers in Alberta of whom 62,269 have made application under the Wheat Acreage Reduction. Fifty percent of the claims filed for the wheat acreage reduction bonus have been passed for payment and the total amounts to more than $4,000,000.

High interim payments are being rushed out so that every farmer who applies will have at least some money on account in November. Claims up to $50 will be passed immediately for payment. On claims over $50, 75 per cent will be passed immediately for payment and adjustments will be made later.

On those payments which have already been made and on which the farmer is dissatisfied as to the amount a definite policy of adjustment will be followed. Municipal secretaries and provincial inspectors should get their ratepayers to apply for these adjustments.

In addition to the W.A.R. and the P.F.A.A. payments, there will be paid to all farmers in Alberta qualifying under P.F.A.A. regulations, a Prairie Farm Income Payment. This is 75 cents per acre on one-half of the farmers' cultivated acreage. Maximum payment to any farmer is $150. The amount will be paid in two instalments—60 percent as soon as possible after Dec. 1, and 40 percent as soon as possible after March 1. To obtain payment, farmers must submit a cultivated acreage statement or report before Nov. 30, 1941, to the office of their municipality or direct to the office of administration in Edmonton.

Reports Under Oath

Municipalities are invited to assist in securing the reports. Farmers who have already filed a cultivated acreage report for 1941 under the P.F.A. Act need not file a further statement Farmers who have not filed a cultivated acreage report but who have made a sworn wheat reduction claim must complete a cultivated acreage

Federal House Resumes Session

Proposal That Meighen Accept Conservative Leadership; Mr. Hansen in Attack

Ottawa session of the House of Commons has resumed, with Prime Minister King's opening address covering the Canadian help to Russia by way of war supplies, food, medical supplies, etc.

A persistent rumor of the corridors in the House is that Senator Meighen be asked to accept leadership of Conservatives during the war. Acting leader Hansen pleads ill health in his insistence that he be relieved of the leadership.

The C.C.F. will be led by Angus MacInnis of Vancouver in the absence of M. J. Coldwell who is overseas.

Rev. E. G. Hansell of Macleod riding will lead the New Democracy party in the absence of J. H. Blackmore, also overseas.

J. S. Woodsworth of Winnipeg, former C.C.F. leader took his seat in the house after long illness.

Since Mr. Hansen's retreat from any official stand on conscription, this issue, which looms largely in the west, may not be an important feature of debate.

Farmers are being advised to "hold their horses" because of coming restrictions on gasoline.

South Alberta centres are now importing eggs from B.C.

Since the outbreak of war, 139 foreign residents of Alberta have been granted citizenship. Applicants must be self-suporting, must speak English, have no criminal record, and have a little knowledge of Canada.

Nordegg Mines Major Tragedy

Many Lives Lost, One of Greatest Disasters in Canadian Mining History

The trapping of 30 men in an underground cave-in at Nordegg coal mine has been one of the major tragedies in Canadian mining history. It is one of the worst to have happened in Alberta, recalling the disaster at Hillcrest in 1914 when 189 were killed. In 1935, Coalhurst experienced a mining accident that cost 16 lives.

A terrific explosion in one section of the mine caused a large cave-in underground, trapping the men. Several were badly mangled when eventually rescue parties got through, but many others died from the fumes which circulated when the entrance caved in.

The mine employs about 400 men and works on 24-hour basis. There is an output of 2000 tons of briquettes daily. This is the first major accident in the mine and all possible safety precautions had been taken according to P. Conroy of Calgary, vice-president of United Mine Workers of America.

While rescuers were working through to the scene of the cave-in, the little town was a scene of tragedy with women and children waiting at the pithead to receive their dead.

Cheering News From Prisoner of War

Sergeant-Observer Lloyd Peterson Writes "Am Uninjured—in Good Health—Not Treated Badly."

Mrs. David MacDonald has been greatly relieved by a cheering letter from her brother, Sergeant-Observer, Lloyd Peterson, R.C.A.F. who is prisoner of war in Germany. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Peterson of Seattle, have also received a reassuring card from their son.

The family is particularly appreciative of the services of the International Red Cross in speeding the good word and acting as such an efficient avenue of communication.

The young man was reported missing on Sept. 16, following action over Germany, and later reported prisoner of war. The postcard was received by his parents at Seattle on Oct. 20, and the letter was received Nov. 3. Curiously the letter was written before the postcard, though received later. This seems remarkably quick time in getting word through.

In his letter Sgt.-Observer Peterson writes in part: "Have taken up new residence, worse luck. Only hope it is not for long. Am uninjured, in perfect health and full of fight. So far not treated badly, urgently need cigs. All parcels of eats, cigs, etc. more than welcome. All is done through Red Cross. Permitted two letters and four postcards per month. My commission (Pilot Officer) came through morning of my last flight. Lovely country were it not for barb wire enclosure. Hope folks do not worry, no need to. All I do is eat, sleep and read, but find things rather dull."

In the postcard to his parents he notifies them that he is leaving his prison camp, and being transferred to another, but the tone of his message is as reassuring as the letter to his sister.

Social Credit In 10 Point Program

The Democratic Montary Reform convention, embracing Social Credit theories, has been in convention at Winnipeg with delegates from the four western provinces and Quebec. A resolution has been passed asking that a national organization be formed "to mobilize the sovereign will of the people to secure the results they want under a monetary system administered in accordance with principles of true democracy." L. D. Byrne technical adviser of the S.C. Board of Alberta, said world ills could be blamed on the international money power directed to subjection of all people to financial dictatorship. This money power he said was directed by men exclusively non-British, who were seeking destruction of the British Empire.

The ten-point program proposed approved of (1) principles of Christianity in human relationship; (2) to establish in accordance with highest traditions of the British way of life, responsible democratic government in Canada as basis of post war reconstruction; (3) to oppose any attempt to weaken democratic institutions by increased centralization of power; (4) to liberate the country from the yoke of the present financial system; (5) to restore to parliament effective control over issue of currency and credit; (6) to obtain the economic security which the vast resources of Canada can provide for her citizens; (7) to abolish unnecessary poverty and privation; (8) to secure freedom from oppressive debt and taxation; (9) to ensure that after the war the men of our victorious fighting forces and all wage earners, primary producers and others who are valiantly assisting in this present struggle shall find a Canada worthy of the sacrifices they are making in defence of freedom, social justice and the preservation of our democratic rights; (10) to provide the people with an effective organization on matters essential to their welfare and for taking united action to assert their democratic will.

The Home Paper

W. Earl Rowe, M.P. for Dufferin-Simcoe constituency is sending a free subscription of the local weekly papers for the duration of the war to all members of the Canadian forces overseas connected with that constituency. When asked about the plan, Mr. Rowe said:

"As a lifetime resident of a rural community, I appreciate the importance of the weekly newspaper. It keeps me in touch with my friends and neighbours as no other medium can do.

"I believe most people depend as I do on their home-time newspaper for news. This interest in the affairs of friends and neighbors must be particularly true in the case of those who are serving us overseas. My contribution in making sure that men and women in the forces from my riding receive their local newspaper is only a small thing compared with what they are sacrificing."

Duty Toward Your Community

Business men are heard at times to condemn the farmer who takes everything from his land and gives nothing in return in the way of fertilizer. That kind of a farmer, however, is on a par with the business man who does not contribute anything to the welfare or improvement of his community.

There are some men who say that they haven't the time to take part in community activities. They earn their living in the town, grab every nickle they can get their hands on but give nothing in return for the livelihood except criticism of others who are endeavoring to accomplish something that will make their own better and more prosperous. There is no one who is too busy to do his duty towards his community.

Look about you and you will find the man who is doing the most in local projects is the one whose own business engages his time most fully.

If our town is to flourish as it might every person who is earning a livelihood within its borders ought to identify himself with some local organization and work for the well being of the town in every way that is possible. Don't be like the farmer who bleeds his land.—Exchange.

R.A.F. pilots in Russia are impressed with the fighting skill of young Soviet airmen. Russian dive bombers are magnificent.

Assistance will be given to coal shipped from Alberta to eastern Canada. This will be 25% of freight rates when the rate is less than $8 a ton. If more than $8 a ton, the freight will be $2.50.

The teachers' convention at Red Deer protested action of the Dept. of Education in sending normal students to schools that are without teachers. They say that actually there is no shortage of qualified teachers but salaries are so low that teachers turn to other means of employment.

The speculation regarding the visit of Prime Minister King to President Roosevelt is that some agreements were reached on Canada's aid to Russia; mutual defence plans; economic matters.

D. C. Wilson of Lacombe who ran over and killed three boys walking down the road was absolved of responsibility. The boys were on the wrong side of the road and lights of an oncoming car blinded Wilson.

Actual Farmer Gets the Bonus

Regulations covering payment of an acreage bonus to western farmers as part of a national plan to freeze commodity prices and wages make no provision for the tenant farmers to divide such sums with his landlord, agriculture department officials said.

The payments will be made to the actual farmer and what he does with them is a matter for himself to decide, officials said.
